

Ancient Ukrainian Ironbelly

3 September 2021

Adversary Event

Intro

Hermione

Harry, we're seeing another surge of Adversaries, particularly Ukrainian Ironbellies.

Harry

I hoped your plea to stop these Adversary attacks would get through to Gareth Greengrass in the end, but perhaps I put too much faith in him.

Hermione

Could you try talking to him? He's been warming up a bit to you ever since you made that promise to help his daughter.

Harry

I'll try, but I wouldn't hold my breath. You know how stubborn and uncooperative he's been.

End

Harry

Gareth, now that we've come to more of an understanding, I hope you'll reconsider your decision to continue these Adversary attacks.

Gareth

If Hermione told you that I refused to stop creating Adversaries, then she misunderstood. What I actually said was that there was nothing I could do.

Harry

What is that supposed to mean?

Gareth

That while Adversaries were originally my doing, I haven't caused what you call an "Adversary surge" since you detained me.

If Adversary surges really are continuing, then someone else is holding the reins.
