Lethal Adversary

Intro

Hermione

Harry, we've confirmed the creation of a second Lethal Adversary, one resembling Dolores Umbridge. I've told our SOS Task Force volunteers to engage with extreme caution. Given how cruel the real thing could be and how much suffering she inflicted, they're likely incredibly dangerous.

Harry

That explains the truly vile nightmares I had about her last night. Ginny kept having to assure me that the real Umbridge is locked away in Azkaban, where she belongs.

Hermione

Constance may be joining her soon. In the meantime, we should consider stationing additional Aurors in and around her holding room. The Unforgivable might try to use this attack to break her out.

Harry

You're treating Constance like she's some incredibly dangerous Dark witch. We don't even know for certain that she's part of the cabal yet!

Hermione

I love you, Harry, but you're too trusting. And when fighting against The Unforgivable, that can be dangerous, even deadly. We have to proceed with caution when addressing both Constance and this surge.

Outro

Harry

I didn't think I could hate Umbridge any more than I already did, but I was wrong.

Hermione

If The Unforgivable's attacks continue like this, it won't be long before we're essentially facing an army of Dark Lords. If - or when - that happens, can we really ask our volunteers to put themselves in harm's way?

Harry

We don't really have a choice, do we? Other than an assumption that this is the work of another member of The Unforgivable, we have no idea who's been conducting these Adversary attacks since Gareth Greengrass stopped.

Hermione

I've been putting off visiting Constance personally because... Well, to be frank, I wasn't sure what to say to her. But I think it's time we talked. She may know something about these attacks.

Harry

Just... try not to jump to conclusions, all right? Constance has been our friend and coworker for years. She deserves, at the very least, to have a chance to explain herself.

Constance, have any SOS Task Force volunteers reported an encounter with a new Adversary?

storyboard_event_adversaries_0020_intro_content_01

Unfortunately, yes. I was actually just about to tell you that we've confirmed the creation of a second Lethal Adversary, one resembling disgraced Ministry official Dolores Umbridge.

storyboard_event_adversaries_0020_intro_content_02

I thought so. I had some truly vile nightmares about her last night. Ginny kept having to remind me that the real Umbridge is locked away in Azkaban, where she belongs.

storyboard_event_adversaries_0020_intro_content_03

I know Dolores Umbridge was extremely prejudiced and cruel. But, if I'm being honest, I'm having a hard time taking someone who looks like that seriously as an enemy.

storyboard_event_adversaries_0020_intro_content_04

Only because you've never had the displeasure of knowing the real Umbridge. That woman is one of the most dangerous, evil people I've ever met, and I've known all manner of Dark wizards and mass-murderers. We must approach these new Adversaries with extreme caution.

You were absolutely right, Harry. Dolores Umbridge's looks are deceiving. I barely managed to make it out of some of those Adversary battles. She's a truly Lethal threat.

storyboard_event_adversaries_0020_outro_content_01

I didn't think Umbridge could get more intolerable, but The Unforgivable have proven me wrong. I wish we knew why they're continuing and even ramping up these Adversary attacks.

storyboard_event_adversaries_0020_outro_content_02

If it was to ruin the colour pink for me, then mission accomplished.

Are they trying to sow fear? To demonstrate their power? Or are they hoping these new Lethal Adversaries will take us out once and for all?
